PHS Winter Concert

Since 1946, the annual PHS Winter Concert at the University Chapel has been a Princeton community tradition. Featuring all of the PHS choirs and orchestras, the program includes a variety of repertoire, a candlelight processional, and an energetic finale. We were so fortunate to be able to use such an incredible and beautiful space for this event on December 22. We made a video recording of the performance that premiered on our YouTube channel on Wednesday, January 12 and will be available for approximately two weeks.

In addition, the performance will be aired on WWFM, the Classical Network, on Friday, January 14, 2022, at 8:00 PM. We are honored to be one of the few high schools to be featured on this radio network. You may listen live on 89.1 FM or at www.wwfm.org.

Congratulations to all of our students and directors Robert Loughran, Vincent Metallo, and Sarah Pelletier.

It's not too late to check out the PHS December Big Band Dance

On December 23, the PHS band program presented a virtual concert of jazz music from the 1940's to today, featuring the Tiger Bands, Nassau Bands, Jazz Ensemble, and Studio Band. This concert was recorded live without an audience and is still available on our YouTube channel through the end of this week. We recognized Mr. Grimaldi's retirement at the end of the video.
