PHS Health and Wellness Green Team News

Welcome to news and tips from the PHS Health and Wellness Green Team (HWGT). Each week we will provide updates and information to help PHS families lead more mindful and sustainable lives.

This Week's Sustainability Tip: Gardening with Native Plants

With Spring just around the corner, it's the perfect time to plan what type of garden you'll plant this year. As you consider options, one eco-friendly technique should always be on your to-do list: utilizing native plants.

What are native plants? Native plants are species that grow in a region without human introduction. Only plants found in NJ before European settlement are considered to be native here. The Native Plant Society of NJ has identified over 2,000 native plant species in our state; the Flora of NJ Project is gathering information and creating a database about our native plants.

Top Benefits of Native Plants

- Hardy, low-maintenance native plants save time and money. Well-adapted to local climate and soil, native plants have natural defenses to plant diseases, harmful insects, and other pests. Plant the right native in the right place, and it will thrive with minimal care. Once established, native plants flourish with normal rainfall and need little additional watering. Native plants grow well with minimal fertilization; they're less likely to develop pest problems requiring treatment.
- Native plants attract and support wildlife. If you enjoy watching birds, butterflies, and other wildlife, native plants will bring them into your yard. Because native animals evolved together with native plants, they depend on them for essential food, shelter, and nesting sites. Plant a variety to provide year-round sources of food and diverse types of cover for wildlife.
- Native plants improve water quality. Native plant roots help prevent erosion by holding soil in place, increase infiltration of rainwater into the ground, and filter pollutants like lawn chemicals from the water. Since native plants lessen the need to apply fertilizers and pesticides, they keep our water cleaner and healthier by reducing the amount of pollution that rainwater runoff can carry into our waterways.
- Native plants work in all garden designs. When considering native plants, think about more than just wildflower meadows. There are choices perfect for foundation beds, shrub borders, specimen trees, ground covers, water gardens, woodland edges, and more. No matter what your garden style, you can find a variety of beautiful native plants for your yard.

Learn More!

1. Learn about natives. The Native Plant Society of NJ maintains a list of native plants by county. More information can be found on the NJ Agricultural Experiment Station website. Use an app like iNaturalist to help you identify all kinds of flora and fauna.
2. Stop buying invasives. Be sure to check the "Do Not Plant" list found on the Friends of Hopewell Valley Open Space (FOHVOS) website.
3. Remove invasives. The FOHVOS Invasive Species Strike Team maintains a list of invasive species and recommended methods to eradicate them on your property.

Where Can You Purchase Natives?

The D&R Greenway Land Trust, Bowman's Hill Wildflower Preserve, and Toadshade Wildflower Farm each offer periodic native plant sales. Friends of Hopewell Valley Open Space has their sale online; Wild Ridge Plants ships plants. Local nurseries may also offer a variety of native plants. For more information, visit

Please Join Us in the Princeton 5K on March 19 - Run, Walk, or Remote

The thirteenth Princeton 5K is on Saturday, March 19, 2022. Athletes - young and old, big and small, fast and not as fast - come together year after year to run or walk while supporting the Princeton High School Cross Country and Track & Field teams. It's the teams' largest annual fundraiser, and the money we raise supports lower-income students in need of gear, funding for athletic equipment not covered by the PPS budget, tents for rainy weather meets, and season-end recognition for athletes and coaches, etc.

The in-person race starts in front of Princeton Middle School at 217 Walnut Lane at 8:30AM. Runners can organize into teams. In 2022, we are adding a 300m kids dash for all children under the age of 10.

This year there is also a virtual option that runners can complete any time between March 19th and 26th. You can choose when and where you run or walk your 5K.

Wait for the perfect sunny afternoon. Take your favorite running partner, two-legged or four. Push a stroller. All are welcome in this year's 5K!

Sign up and get more information at princeton5k.com. T-shirts are guaranteed for all who register before March 1. Registration is also available in-person on race day.

PHS COUNSELING UPDATES

Feedback regarding AP Coursework Wanted:

PHS Director of Counseling, Dana Karas, is looking to gather your thoughts, questions and concerns on how we currently provide appropriate advanced placement opportunities to all Princeton Public Schools students. To gather your feedback, we're using a tool called ThoughtExchange. All of our voices matter, so your participation is crucial and valued.

Click here to participate:

<https://my.thoughtexchange.com/scroll/744620274/welcome>

You'll be asked to respond to one open-ended question, consider and assign ratings to some of the ideas shared by others (20 to 30 is ideal), and learn what's important to the group. You can rate as many thoughts as you'd like before moving on to 'View results' where you can see all the thoughts sorted by the average rating.

Your thoughts and ratings are confidential. You can come back as often as you'd like to participate and, in fact, we ask that you do come back to rate some of the new ideas shared since you first participated. The ratings will help us understand the most important areas to focus on for AP course offerings at PHS.

Participation will be open until April 3, 2022.

If you need technical help, please call ThoughtExchange at 1-800-361-9027 ext. 4 or email help@thoughtexchange.com

Thank you in advance for your help and input.
